Citywide tree inventory	Field surveys, remote sensing, database entry, quality assurance, report	Data will be collected through field surveys/remote sensing and entered in a secure database. Data showing location, species, size, health, and condition of trees	$100,000	Greater tree canopy cover, healthier trees, better maintenance, more resilience

Describe in detail the activity or work to be conducted.

Detailed Activities

All work will be conducted by a vendor with certified arborists who hold Tree Risk Assessment Qualifications from the International Society of Arboriculture. The scope will clearly define the goals of the tree inventory (urban planning, environmental assessment, risk management) and identify the targeted geographic area (citywide). The project will identify the location, species, size, health, and condition of public trees in the community. Tree inventory data will be entered into a secure database. Checks will be conducted to ensure data quality and consistency throughout the project. Analysis of the tree inventory data will derive meaningful insights and metrics for decision-making by local elected leaders, urban planners, and community stakeholders. The complete tree inventory findings will be publicly available through a comprehensive report featuring maps, graphs, and summaries. Port St. Lucie pledges to conduct ongoing monitoring to track changes in tree population and conditions, updating the tree inventory regularly to ensure data relevance. The project team will also conduct outreach to residents to raise awareness and foster community involvement in tree care and management.

Project Tasks, Objectives, and Deliverables

A qualified arborist will conduct a citywide tree inventory to determine the:

- Number of trees
- Species of trees
- Health condition of each tree, categorizing them as healthy, diseased, or dead
- Size of trees (diameter, height) to determine maturity and growth patterns
- Maintenance needs of trees, such as pruning requirements or disease treatment
- Potential for trees to pose hazards during storm events
- Estimated amount of carbon stored by trees to quantify their environmental benefits

These measures will help Port St. Lucie to:

- Grow the canopy in places where there are few or no trees
- Improve management and maintenance of existing trees
- Reduce the risk of tree hazards
- Build resilience with better tree diversity
- Increase public support for green spaces

The overall deliverables are a citywide tree inventory database and report. The database will include all tree inventory information and be accessible to key City staff. A report will be generated for public release that features maps, graphs, and summaries of project findings. All work will be completed by the vendor.

Feasibility

The proposed project can be completed within 12 months of grant award. The timeline of proposed activities includes:

- Engage with vendor (month 1)
- Field surveying and use of remote sensing, with database entry and quality assurance checks (months 2-10)
- Data analysis and reporting (months 11)
- Prepare report and present tree inventory results (month 12)
