8.a Ordinance 23-52, Public Hearing, An Ordinance Amending the City of Port St. Lucie Code of Ordinances Title XV, "Land Usage", Chapter 156 "Subdivision Regulations", Article VI "Design and Improvement; Model Standards; Principles and Guidelines"; Sec. 156.094 "Subdivision and Lot Access" in Order to Set the Minimum Number of Access Points for Residential Developments. 2023-706

The City Clerk read Ordinance 23-52 aloud by title only.

Councilwoman Morgan inquired as to when the second reading of the Ordinances for items 8a and 8b were done, to which Planner Bethany Grubbs advised that this meeting would be the second readings. Councilwoman Morgan inquired as to when they were advertised, to which the City Clerk advised that it was November 11th. Councilwoman Morgan then inquired if any significant changes had been made, to which Ms. Grubbs informed that there had been no changes to the header of the Ordinances, which is what was advertised, but there had been changes to the body in terms of unit counts, which is not advertised.

(Clerk's Note: A revised version of the presentation was provided to Council at this time.)

(Clerk's Note: A PowerPoint presentation was shown at this time.) Ms. Grubbs provided a summary to the Council and stated that the request was for an amendment to establish standards for the minimum number of access points for all residential developments including those located within the Planned Unit Development (PUD) and Master Planned Unit Development (MPUD) zoning districts. She noted that this amendment was mainly for increased public health, safety, and welfare. She provided a background of the Ordinance and discussed both existing and previously proposed city access requirements.

Vice Mayor Caraballo noted that secondary access points were not based on the number of units being at 101, to which City Manager Merejo confirmed, and stated that shifts for the lots may be made which then determines where the secondary access will be. Vice Mayor Caraballo advised that she did not have an issue with redacting the redundancy in the language that stated that they could call for a study along with the Fire Marshalls, but that City Manager Merejo had informed her that he would like the language to stand so that city staff could be on the same page when they look up the Ordinance. Councilman Bonna, Councilman Pickett, and Mayor Martin announced that they were in favor of approval for this item. Councilwoman Morgan discussed Wildland Rule & Suburban Areas and stated that she did not think the redundancy of the language was needed.

Mayor Martin opened the Public Hearing. Steve Garrett, Lucido & Associates, clarified the letter that was submitted that morning that included a request to table the item, not that the request was not based on the thresholds, but based on the parts of the Ordinance that state "shall" as it regarded to the secondary access. Shawn Mackenzie, Mackenzie Engineering & Planning, stated that there was still uncertainty for when the accesses were needed and when they would be required, and this would not be applicable per the Code. Tara Dewey, attorney on behalf of ACR Acquisitions, expressed concern with the language as written and requested to table the item.

There being no one further, Mayor Martin closed the Public Hearing. There being no further discussion, Vice Mayor Caraballo moved to approve Ordinance 23-52. Councilman Pickett seconded the motion, which passed unanimously by voice vote.

Planning & Zoning Director Mary Savage-Dunham provided a summary and presentation to the Council and stated that the request was to clarify how the required separation between establishments in multi-use commercial buildings/shopping plaza and religious institutions/schools is determined, and to distinguish between the measurement for single-use properties/structures.

Vice Mayor Caraballo inquired on the procedure for when a liquor store is already in place and a religious institution wished to come afterward, and if they would be denied the Special Exemption, to which Ms. Savage-Dunham replied that they would call out the conflict with the code and speak to the Legal Department, and that they would not reject them, they would speak to the applicant to make them aware that the liquor store was there.
